

Woodruff Health Sciences Center Library

Information Services Road Map- Learning to Navigate Resources and Data in the Health Sciences Center Library

*Meet Informationist who will partner with you and introduce the specialized resources and services that can lead to successful assignments and projects.
Learn effective methods to quickly access Emory's information resources and develop the competencies needed in your career.*

| | Strongly Recommended | Optional |
|--------------|-------------------------------------|---|
| Year One | Orientation | Searching the Literature: Beyond PubMed |
| | PubMed for Public Health | Introduction to Epi Info 7 |
| Year Two | Create Bibliographies with EndNote | Systematic Reviews |
| | Finding Data for Secondary Analysis | Lynda.com SPSS Series |
| | Thesis Literature Review | Lynda.com R Series |
| Consultation | | |

| PubMed for Public Health | Create Bibliographies w/EndNote | Introduction to Epi Info 7 | Finding Data for Secondary Data Analysis | Searching the Literature: Beyond PubMed | Systematic Reviews | Thesis Literature Review | Consultation | Lynda.com R series | Lynda.com SPSS series |
|---|---|--|---|---|--|--|--|---|---|
| Demonstrates best practices to identify and access peer-reviewed publications using premier biomedical database | Save hours of time by using EndNote to prepare bibliographies and insert references in your term papers, thesis, and other projects | Learn how to navigate CDC's public domain statistical software for epidemiology and look at key features | Identify public-use health data sets for analysis; navigate the WHSC Library Data Blog and search by title or subject | Introduces use of EMBASE, Web of Science, and Google Scholar as complements to a PubMed literature search | Establish skills for this important research method; charts the planning, searching, documentation, and final organization | Produce a quality thesis or special project; outlines literature review process, focusing results and organizing information | Do you need more assistance after attending some of these sessions? Schedule an appointment with an Informationist to discuss your project or assignment and to plan the next steps. Email us at Ask a Librarian | View the 3-part video tutorials, with discussion moderated by WHSC Library Informationist | View the 3-part video tutorials, with discussion moderated by WHSC Library Informationist |